The parties have called and wonder if they should show up tomorrow prepared to review and provide testimony for the new contract. I personally think that is possible, but the DPU (and others) wouldn't have a lot of time to review the contract prior to tomorrow, so DPU may want more time (but could already be familiar with the issues and DPU's preferences on how they should be resolved, since DPU has prepared testimony on a number of the issues). Let us know if you want to give the parties some instructions prior to tomorrow or if you will just see what happens tomorrow; possibly setting a future hearing date (if desired) after the contract has been reviewed by DPU and the PSC staff.

Subject: Wasatch Wind QF Power Purchase Agreement

Utah Power and Wasatch Wind have executed a QF Power Purchase Agreement and will not need to have contested the hearing tomorrow. Utah Power will be filing a request for contract approval today and requesting that the Commission approve the contract. Both Utah Power and Wasatch Wind stand ready to brief the Commission tomorrow during the scheduled hearing time if the Commission would like a status report if the Commission would like. Or, we can just proceed with contract approval and let the approval request filing speak for itself.

In addition to requesting approval of the Power Purchase Agreement, Utah Power will ask the Commission to address line losses and approval on an expedited basis. Pursuant to the Commission's recent Orders on line losses, the Commission stated that the issue would be dealt with on a contract-by-contract basis. The PPA states that it will be amended to reflect the Commission's decision on losses.

Utah Power appreciates the hard work of Wasatch Wind in achieving this settlement and avoiding the contested hearing. We also appreciate the valuable input and assistance from the Division and Committee.

Please let me know if you have any questions. db
